

Port 2000

Officially opened on 30 March 2006, Port 2000 is a deep-water port dedicated to container traffic and able to handle the world's biggest container ships 24/7 with no tide constraints.

Published on 14/06/2023 - Updated 12/02/2026

Port 2000 in figures:

1
giant container ship per day
4.2 km
of quays
12
berths

©HAROPA PORT / Marin David

©HAROPA PORT / Samuel Salamagnon

700 m
in diameter a turning circle
2
terminals
+ 1 billion
euros invested

Overview of the terminals

The history of Port 2000:

- 1995: Jacques Chirac, then President of the Republic, declares Port 2000 to be a “project in the national interest”,
- 1997: launch of the public consultation debate,
- 2001: start of construction phase 1,
- 2005: end of phase 1 and entry into service of the first four berths,
- March 30, 2006: Port 2000 is officially opened,
- 2007: start of construction phase 2,
- 2010: end of phase 2 and entry into service of the next six berths,
- 2019 to 2023: construction on berths 11 and 12 - phase 3 of Port 2000,
- 2024: entry into service of the final two berths.

71, quai Colbert, 76600 Le Havre

+33(2) 79 18 05 00